She had recently died at her residence Warton Hall. The family had wished that it should be a private occasion, 'but so universally was she loved and honoured in Lytham an the surrounding neighbourhood during her lifetime, and so general were the feelings of regret at her departure from amongst them, that the inhabitants and the public body of Lytham turned out to pay a last mark of respect and esteem to one who will be so much missed by almost everyone in the immediate neighbourhood, especially the poor and the suffering. ... The prayers at the graveside were read by The Rev. W. H. Baynes, who was visibly affected.'

1893: Blackpool Gazette - Friday 8 September 1893.

AN ECCLESIASTICAL PRINTER.—Like the worthy vicar of Bispham, the Rev. W. H. Baynes, vicar of Warton, is an amateur compositor and printer, a hobby which he pursues with great success. In his study the rev. gentleman has a frame and several "founts" of type, with which he prints the Warton and Freckleton news in the Parish Magazine, in addition to handbills and statements announcing the affairs of the church. He is a self-taught compositor, and his printing productions are very creditable. The parishioners ought to treasure the handiwork of the respected vicar.

St. Michael's Mutual Improvement Society. - On Monday night members of the above society assembled in great force in the National School to hear the opening lecture of the season, entitled "Our Insect Friends," by the Rev. W. H. Baynes, of Warton. The lecture, which was most interesting and instructive, was listened to with great attention by all the members present. At the conclusion of the lecture, a hearty vote of thanks was accorded to the rev. gentleman for having come so far and having taken much time in preparing his lecture. There are now more members in the society than there has been hitherto, and it expected that more will join, so that there is every prospect of a most successful season.

The Rev. W. H. Baynes, who has been the vicar of Warton, near Lytham, for the past twenty-six years, was presented on Saturday with a cheque for £56 1s., as a token of the goodwill and esteem of his parishioners and many friends at Lytham. For health reasons

Mr. Baynes is leaving Warton, and is taking up the duties of the vicariate of Wolforton, Hereford.

Preston Herald – Saturday 22 August 1908.

A pleasant surprise was store for the Rev. W. H. Baynes and Mrs. Baynes, who have laboured for years indefatigably for the church and schools, and who are about to leave the parish. The parishioners and friends had spontaneously collected among themselves, and on their behalf Mr. Wykeham Clifton presented Mr. Baynes with a cheque for £56 1s and Mrs. Baynes with a silver jam dish. Mr. Clifton said that all classes had great affection for Mr. Baynes for the good work he had done. Mr. Baynes was going to leave them, and they all hoped that in the future brilliant success would crown his efforts in the holy work in which was engaged.

Mr. Baynes feelingly responded, and concluded by thanking Mr. and Mrs. Moorhouse for the use of those beautiful grounds for that afternoon's function.*

Mr. Moorhouse briefly replied to the remarks of Mr. Baynes, and said that the value of the cheque had been made up by the parishioners and a few friends in Lytham.

The new school extensions, on behalf of which the garden party was held, will cost £900, and towards this £250 is now in the bank.
