From: The Architect v.9 (11 January 1873)

Stowell Memorial Church, Salford—A reredos, from the design of Mr. John Lowe, Architect, Manchester, has recently been erected in this church. It is of varied stone, enriched with marble, and extends the whole width of the chancel. The lower portion is of Darley Dale Stone, and the upper of Caen. This upper portion consists of five gabled panels, the three central being so combined as to form a centre-piece. The panel-shafts are of red granite, relieving the white Caen and supporting pointed arches, having also carved caps. In the centre of each panel is a raised field with carved emblems (eg. wheat, vine, passion-flower, &c.), and bearing appropriate inscriptions. The tympanum of each gable is a diapered surface of Styperson stone, in the centre of which is a circular panel of Caen stone enriched with various coloured marbles. Crocketed pinnacles separate the gables (which are also crocketed), and all terminate in curved finials. The whole is the gift of a lady in memory of two friends of the late Canon Stowell. The builders were Messrs. Ellis & Hinchcliffe, Manchester.

Stowell Memorial Church Schools, Salford.—The above schools were formally opened on the 2nd inst. by the bishop of the diocese. They form the concluding part of the scheme designed as a memorial of the late Canon Stowell. They are situated near Regent Road, and are bounded on all sides by streets. The site contains 2,420 square yards, of which about two-thirds are devoted to playgrounds. There are two school-rooms, one being 60 feet by 30 feet; and the other 59 feet by 20 feet. In connection with the latter is a class-room, 18 feet by 20 feet. The roofs are of high pitch, and open to the collar-beams. A caretaker's house is also provided. The building is of a plain but substantial character, faced with white headers, and having stone and stock-brick dressings. They have been erected in accordance with the requirements of the Education Department. Accommodation is provided for about 400 children, who will be taught in mixed classes. The total cost, exclusive of site (which has been given) is about £2,290. The builder is Mr. Geo. Napier, Hulme, and the architect, Mr. John Lowe, Manchester,

[The church closed in 1981. The tower is all that remains of the church, standing as a beacon at the start of the M 602 motorway. The school closed in 1988. Ed.]

The Reverend Charles Edgar Leytham MA (officiating minister at the burial) was for 20 years, the esteemed Rector at the Stowell Memorial Church on Trafford Road. Charles was a native of Lancaster, being educated at Lancaster Grammar School and then Selwyn College at Cambridge University, where he received his BA in 1888. An MA was conferred on him in 1899. His first Curacy was at St. Mark's Church in Hulme and then he became Priest at Manchester Cathedral in 1900. In 1901, he moved to Holy Trinity Church, Toxteth, Liverpool and then in 1905 to Standish Parish Church for 7 years. He came to the Stowell Memorial Church, Salford in 1912 and was a popular Rector, comforting his parishioners through the First World War and the Great Depression. After a long illness, Reverend Leytham died on Friday 29th April 1932 at the age of 65.
